DID YOU KNOW?

Paul ("Pete") Dye, born Dec. 29, 1925 in Urbana, Ohio to Paul and Elizabeth Dye, is a legend in the field of golf course design and construction throughout the expanding world of golf along with his wife, former amateur champion golfer, Alice Holliday O'Neal Dye. Considered in many circles to be the most influential golf course architect of the last five decades, Pete is now in his 80's and still designing golf courses. Pete and Alice Dye were married in early 1950, and their marriage produced two sons, Perry and P.B. (Paul Burke).

A 1963 trip to Scotland profoundly impacted Pete's subsequent designs. Touring the great Scottish courses, he was influenced by the features he saw small greens, pot bunkers, undulating fairways and wooden bulkheads. He began incorporating these concepts into his design. This, in turn, influenced future golf architects and Pete has been hailed as the father of modern golf course architecture.

Alice and Pete Dye were honored by the World Golf Hall of Fame in 2008 with the lifetime achievement award. Dye is only the 5th architect to be inducted in the Hall.
